

The United States Government, or the Local Police found Child Pornography.. it is on record, on Mark Lunsford's Computer... and they just turned their backs on it and let him off... He sure has some pull... BUT LET'S PROTECT THE CHILDREN....

Now, he has this Agency to <http://www.jmlfoundation.com/>

The Jessica Marie Lunsford Foundation has been established to help children in crisis. Our children are our last hope in this world. There is an evil that preys on the innocence of these precious souls and the Jessica Marie Lunsford Foundation is a result of one man's struggle with this evil which has claimed his daughter's life. We cannot get rid of this evil...but we can contain it, so that our children can be free.

Yeah Right, a man who is known to enjoy looking at Child Pornography and doing what ever one who is sitting in a chair, looking at child pornography on their computer does... is heading up a foundation that is in place to HELPING CHILDREN IN CRISIS.

Imagine That. I wonder if his Daughter Jessica was some of the Naked Child Porn he had on his computer? Could it be that Jessica, His own Daughter was the also his Child Pornography Victim?

What do you think public? Video Below.. click Read More

WATCH VIDEO BY CLICKING THE BELOW LINK

Click Here to View Video

Mark Lunsford, The Father of This Boy, Was caught with Child Pornography on his computer when the police and FBI did a search of his home when his daughter Jessica dissappeared.

The investigators found Child Pornography on Mark Lunsford's Computer

The outcome of this case has caused significant controversy, especially in light of the fact that child pornography was found on Mark Lunsford's computer by police in Florida shortly after Jessica Lunsford was murdered, yet Mark Lunsford was not prosecuted for possession of child pornography. ^{[14][15][16][17]}

And today, Mark Lunsford was at a National Hearing on the Sex Offender Notification Act, Begging for More Money... He has made a killing off of the death of his daughter. Now, he is trying to make more money off the tax payers of America.

While not only his Son, Joshua is exempt from the very laws Mr. Lunsford is pushing, but also He Himself is exempt... how many people do you know who can get caught with little children, naked and having sex with adults on their computers... and the Police turn their backs on it and NOT prosecute? Only people like Mark Lunsford, Judge Kent... and Mark Foley.. those with connections are exempt from their own sex offender legislation... Note, it was a Judge from Florida... Florida who let Judge Kent walk on 4 Felony Sex Charged if he confessed to 1 count of lying!

It seems Florida has a thing for protecting their own SEX OFFENDERS LIKE Mark Foley, Mark Lunsford and Judge Kent!

This Guy's Dad, is the Dad who got Jessica's Law put into place!

Jessica's Law is the informal name given to a 2005 Florida law, as well as laws in several other states, designed to punish and reduce their ability to re-offend. A version of Jessica's Law has been introduced on the federal level, known as the

sex offenders

Jessica Lunsford Act

The name is also used by the media to designate all legislation and potential legislation in other states modeled after the Florida law . Forty-two states have introduced such legislation since Florida's law was passed. [\[1 \]](#)

The law is named after Jessica Lunsford , a young Florida girl who was raped and murdered in February 2005 by

John Couey

, a previously convicted

sex offender

. Public outrage over this case spurred Florida officials to introduce this legislation. Among the key provisions of the law are a mandatory minimum sentence of 25 years in prison and lifetime electronic monitoring of adults convicted of lewd or lascivious acts against a victim less than 12 years old. In Florida, sexual battery or rape of a child less than twelve years old is punishable only by life imprisonment

[

2

]

[

3

]

with no chance of parole

.

[

4

]

SOURCE

But look what Being Connected to the Famous will get your son in America...

Mark Lunsfords son will spend the next 10 days in jail, but will not be registered as a sex offender after being sentenced Monday for having unlawful sexual contact with a 14-year-old ... Watch the Video.

The question is NOT is it ok in some cases for an 18 year old to have sex with a 14 year old. The Question is Why, Mark Lunsford, who went all over the nation speaking out about Sex Offender laws.. getting tough laws put into place, can get his son off on this charge of Child Molestation, when HE is the one who helped put these laws into place.

Again, the connected go free, and the rest go to prison and on the Sex Offender Registry to be shamed and punished for life. I would love to hear your thoughts on this video.

In another case, a 17 year old boy had sex with a 13 year old girl He has Lifetime Registration as a Child Predator... even though the girl Lied and said she was 16! OMG!

Ironically, almost two years after Mark Lunsford 's nationwide campaign to significantly increase the sentences and release conditions for sex offenses, Jessica Lunsford's older brother, Joshua Lunsford, was charged in Clark County District Court with "unlawful sexual conduct with a minor." The incident involves a 14-year-old girl outside of the Upper Valley Mall in Springfield, Ohio. [7][8][9] Joshua Lunsford was 18 at the time. [

10

]

Joshua wore a shirt emblazoned with a photograph of his slain sister to court on the day that he originally plead "not guilty", which has become a source of significant criticism against the Lunsfords.

[

11

]

[

12

]

In July 2007, Joshua Lunsford accepted a plea bargain in which the original charge of unlawful sexual conduct with a minor, a felony offense subject to sex offender registration, was dropped to a misdemeanor charge of unlawful sexual conduct.

[

13

]

He was ordered to undergo "sex offender assessment," but the law under which the plea was made does not call for mandatory sex offender registration. The outcome of this case has caused significant controversy, especially in light of the fact that child pornography was found on Mark Lunsford's computer by police in Florida shortly after Jessica Lunsford was murdered, yet Mark Lunsford was not prosecuted for possession of child pornography.

[

14

]

[

15

]

[

16

]

[

17

]

John Walsh of America's Most Wanted and Bill O'Reilly of The O'Reilly Factor have been vocal proponents of Jessica's Law, arguing that children have to be protected and that child sex offenders have to be held to a much higher standard. O'Reilly points out that the states of Colorado

,
Wyoming

,
Idaho

,
New Jersey

,
Massachusetts

,
Hawaii

and

Vermont

have shown reluctance and refused to pass a Jessica's Law in their respective state legislatures.

[

8

]

He claims that

Utah

,
North Carolina

and

New Mexico

are inconclusive while all other states are either moving in the direction of passing a Jessica's Law or have already passed some form of it. North Carolina passed the Jessica Lunsford Act in

2

Why are children who fall under the very same law which Lunsford's Father had put into place, NOT being protected from these laws?

Because there is a double standard. The politicians and those connected to them, are exempt from their own lawmaking.

Advocates for convicted sex offenders claim that the civil rights of convicted persons and their non-offending family members is forever affected, long after the punishment has ended. Internet publication of sex offenders home addresses continues to be upheld by the court in the name of public safety, although April 2006 vigilante type murders in Maine [\[6 \]](#) have brought new concerns of misuse of the registry and for the safety of nonoffending family members by private parties. Missouri civil rights attorney Arthur Benson currently waits decision from the regarding the Sex Offenders Registration Act SORA Litigation, Jane Doe I, et al. v. Thomas Phillips et al.

Missouri Supreme Court

\[

Z

[\]](#)

which "contends the act violates substantive due process rights and equal protection rights because it infringes on fundamental liberty rights, imposes a lifetime stigma, has no express purpose and, even if it serves a compelling interest, is not narrowly tailored or rationally related to that interest. They assert that, if the act is deemed to be criminal in nature, it violates the prohibition against ex post facto laws because it imposes an additional punishment, thereby altering the consequences for a crime for which they already have been sentenced."

Some controversy exists regarding how a person becomes labeled as a sex offender. Most Americans believe that the registry lists convicted child molesters when in actuality, some offenders listed on the Registries have been convicted of non-violent offenses, which involve no visible victim or no physical contact. An example of such would include online talk with an undercover police officer posing as an underage minor. Teenagers involved in a consensual sexual relationship, known as "Romeo and Juliet" relationships, with the male or female partner considered underage in the eyes of the law, may also be listed as sex offenders on the nation's registries. However, they would not be affected by a Jessica's Law such as the one in Florida, since such laws only apply to pedop

hiles

who have committed offences with victims under the age of 12. Most charged persons lack adequate funding for a legal defense to fight such charges. The result is a plea bargain, which in some states, is followed by automatic sexual-offender registration regardless of judicial discretion, such as decreed by Florida Statute 943.0436

\[

5

[\]](#)

. Registration is for life or 20 years, whatever comes first. Advocates against such legislation believe politicians have run unchecked with this issue, due to guaranteed press coverage, easy votes and the guarantee of federal funding for law enforcement with the passage of one new sex offender law annually. An overhaul of the nation's registries through the incorporation of a tier level system is advocated as a method which would allow the public to more accurately determine the risk of a registered offender living in their neighborhood while allowing law enforcement to more effectively supervise those considered truly dangerous not only to children but also to women and the elderly.

References

1. ^ Fox News commentator Bill O'Reilly 's official website keeps track of states either moving towards or against the passage of a Jessica's law. See BillOReilly.com: Jessica's Law
 2. ^ Florida Statute 800.04
 3. ^ Florida Statute 947.1405
 4. ^ Florida Statute 794.011
 5. ^ Welcome : Online Sunshine
 6. ^ Benson & Associates
 7. ^ Supreme Court Home Page
 8. ^ " <http://www.billoreilly.com/outragefunnels> " BillOReilly.com: Jessica's Law
-
- Arthur A. Benson II. Jane Doe I, et al. v. Thomas Phillips et al. (Case No. SC86573). May 2006.
 - Carl Jones. "Porn Law Goes Too Far". Daily Business Review. April 10, 2006.
 - Internet Broadcasting Systems and Local6.com. "Groups Propose Tier System For Sex Registry". May 2006.
 - Rebecca Van Drunen. Confederation College. "Outcast Society: A Closer Look at North American Sexual Offenders in the Twenty-First Century". May 5, 2006.
 - Sharon Wilson. "Sex Offenders: The Other Side". Orlando Sentinel. 10/23/2005.